Tupperware owner carnival today

KUCHING: Tupperware Brands Authorised Business Centre at Jalan Datuk Abang Abdul Rahim is having a Business Centre Owner Carnival from 9am to 6pm today.

The event's programme includes a Beauty and Product Show, which will be conducted by London trained beauty consultant, as well as a cooking contest to showcase the latest cooking utensils from Tupperware.

It will also feature a feel good session, where participants can experience a total facial make over by a reputable make-up artist and a drawing contest for the children.

"The Beauty and Product Show will feature the season's latest colours that are rich and crisp. Also there will be a talk on the product range for the different type of skins as well as complexions," according to the press release.

It also said Tupperware cooking ware is known for its versatility and durability, adding that many different types of cooking could be done in just one pot.

"Besides that, it is healthy, cost effective and most importantly, environment friendly," it added.

"People here are still thinking that Tupperware Brands is just about household products. Now with the merger of Tupperware and Nutrimetics, you can have beauty and household products."

The statement added, the carnival is organised for a casual gathering for patrons and consultant, as well as to familiarise the locals of the merger and that they could shop
